Standing Rules

September, 2017

Door prizes revisited: $50 in our standing rules provide for the door prizes. The original intent was to make money for the guild. This endeavor doesn't make a lot of money, but it does make some. The motion was approved to leave it as originally stated.

The original standing rule change that enabled the $350 payment to the Spring retreat committee (8-5-08) was meant so that committee members would not need to pay expenses out of their own pockets. The final motion was for the guild to give $1000 to the Spring retreat committee each year to offset expenses including door prizes. This amount must be requested by the committee chairperson and approved each year. Any unused amount is to be returned to the guild.

A lively discussion followed on the rule that calls for a $10 refundable fee when signing up for Sit n' Stitch. A motion was made to eliminate the rule as written and it passed. Joanne Schlichting made a motion that there be a $10 charge to sign up for a Sit n' Stitch class if there was no separate charge for the class. If the person actually attends the class, the $10 would be refunded. If the person does not attend the class, the $10 goes into the guild treasury
